

Would you abandon your loyal friend?

DoggieRescue is currently receiving many middle aged dogs who have been abandoned at the pound. These loyal canine friends, who have served their masters all their lives, now find themselves callously left to die in council pounds.

“Most of these dogs are skeletons when they come to our shelter, flea ridden, with rotten teeth and totally matted” says Monika, founder of DoggieRescue.

These mature dogs have so much to give. They are so appreciative of a gentle touch, a warm bath and a good meal. They have the added benefit of being quieter, when left unattended, needing less exercise and just ready to relax with you after a hard day.

Unconditional love is a rare thing these days but our loyal friends know nothing else. Take for example Jasmine a gentle easy 7 year old Shihtzu x Maltese. “She is such a sweetie --. I foster her personally. She is placid with my own dogs, very quiet at home – no-one would even know she is there. The added benefit is she is house trained. Jasmine is very affectionate and loves to sit on your lap for longer periods. She has a non-shedding coat that needs regular clipping. She is an ideal dog for families working longer hours or to live in an apartment environment.”

Jasmine is one of the many saved each week by DoggieRescue.com. To see all our doggies, well over 100, visit www.DoggieRescue.com and remember a dog is for life.
